Though not a household name, Gurf Morlix is widely known because of his close collaborations with Lucinda Williams: he was her guitarist and band leader for 11 years and produced two of her albums. But he's also recorded 10 terrific albums of his own. An outstanding songwriter, his distinctive guitar and singing styles are very recognizably his. He's renowned as a producer for the likes of Mary Gauthier, Ray Wylie Hubbard, Robert Earl Keen, and, of course, Lucinda Williams. He's been a sideman for a host of people, including Warren Zevon, Buddy and Julie Miller, Ian MacLagan, and Robert Plant. This is a rare opportunity to see one of Austin's most revered musicians.
